Dear Praying Friends,

Hi from Belgium! We arrived back to Wolvertem, just north of Brussels, Thursday night, January 7. We jumped right into a week of youth group, two homeschool co-ops, home groups, and international church! What a great feast of fellowship for our family and it is all in our heart language of English!!! After years of being left out of Hebrew, Russian, French, Swiss German, etc. conversations around us, we have the privilege of being INCLUDED these days! What a wonderful feeling for parents and kids! (Of course we understand everything in Arabic, but we just live among so many language groups!)

The time God gave us in Israel and the West Bank was fruitful and amazing! After praying for about 8 years for the "last to be reached" people groups of the world, which includes deaf Palestinians, God connected us with a group of Musl.m Palestian moms and sisters of the deaf. We shared the Gospel with them through the book mark project. Each lady made 250 bookmarks. The first two times we met with them, we shared God's Good News from Creation to the New Creation. The third time we met, the ladies brought some new friends. As we counted the bookmarks with the evangelistic acrostic, one of the ladies spoke up and said, "William, will you tell us again God's story?" I was so touched to hear them ASK to be told again! When I was little, my mom taught me a hymn, "Tell it again" about a Gypsy boy who had never had a chance to hear about Jesus. This song always meant a lot to me and God let us hear these ladies ask, "Please tell us again!" WOW! God is SO awesome!! Some of these West Bank ladies had to pass through four checkpoints and risk their lives to meet with us in a super violent time. One of the ladies was pushed down on the ground as she tried to get in a taxi van along with crowds of Palestinians.

Now we have begun to share the Gospel and give out the evangelistic bookmarks as God brings Arabic speakers to us one at a time.

Thank you so much for praying for us and supporting us to be present among people groups who are hungry to hear about Jesus!

Love in Jesus,

William and Larisa Hernandez
